The Course

Forklifts provide substantial savings in time and effort required to load, unload and stack materials. However they need to be operated with great care, otherwise they present a significant hazard. This course will teach you how to do this. The forklift is driven around a suitable course with the operator moving and stacking various loads. The certificate is endorsed according to the type of machine use: industrial counterbalance, rough terrain mastless forklift, rough terrain telescopic handler, reach truck, side loader or order picker.

What You Will Study

- Safe driving of a forklift truck
- Pre-use maintenance and safety checks
- Recognition of controls and instruments

Entry Requirements

There are no formal entry requirements for this qualification, but candidates must be a minimum of 16 years old.

Time Required on Campus

The course is run over three days, this includes two days of training and one external assessment day by a member of NPTC / City & Guilds.
