The Course

This programme is currently undergoing a refresh to ensure you get the best experience and opportunity to achieve as an employment-ready graduate. Full details of the newly refreshed programme will be available later in the year, subject to approval, and will be communicated to all applicants at the earliest opportunity. This programme is designed to develop excellent equine practical management skills underpinned with sound academic knowledge to promote the health and well-being of horses whilst enhancing welfare and performance. You will study a breadth of modules surrounding equine management and undertake a vast amount of practical experience on our busy commercial equine centre to be well prepared to enter a variety of applied roles in the industry. The therapy pathway provides you with valuable skills in the assessment of the horse and ability to implement, monitor and assess the role of specialist equipment.

Course Aims

- Develop you into a critically informed, reflective and adaptable graduate prepared to enter a wide variety of scientific roles. Give you the key theoretical underpinning of scientific principles surrounding application of equine management practices. Equip you with practical skills and vocational experience in preparation for entering a diverse range of employment opportunities within the equine management, training and reproduction roles. Enable you to become an independent student with a reflective approach to enhancing your own career prospects and continued professional development. Equip you with the skills, knowledge and understanding to work effectively in the equine industry, with specialisms developing towards therapy and rehabilitation. Ensure that you have the ability to assess and explore alternative solutions to promote health and performance.

Teaching and Learning Approach

This programme is delivered with a variety of learning and teaching approaches to include all students' learning styles and preferences. For all modules, theory lectures are delivered that aim to deliver the core content and provide the underpinning knowledge. To complement the theory lectures, you will have group seminars/practical sessions that are used to reinforce concepts delivered theoretically, utilising excellent laboratory facilities and equine centre. The teaching methods focus on facilitating a student-centred approach to enhance your independent learning outside of the classroom. Within work based learning modules you will undertake weekly yard experience with both academic and commercial instructors, developing both industry and transferable skills.

Time Required on Campus

FULL TIME: You will have approximately 12-16 hours of contact time each week, including lectures, seminars, practicals and tutorials. This is inclusive of four hours experience per week at our commercial Equine Centre at level 4 and two hours per week at level 5. You are also expected to carry out a significant amount of private study in addition to contact time (25-30 hours a week).
PART TIME: You will have approximately 6-11 hours of contact time each week, including lectures, seminars, practicals and tutorials. This is inclusive of four hours experience per week at our commercial Equine Centre. You are also expected to carry out a significant amount of private study in addition to contact time (18-20 hours a week). You can expect to receive your timetable during induction week.

Work Experience

You will undertake 80 hours of external work placements within an appropriate establishment during level 4 of the programme. You will participate in work experience in the Bishop Burton Equine Therapy Centre within your second year of study.

How You’re Assessed

The programme will incorporate a variety of assessment methods across each academic year. The mix of assessments will seek to challenge and evaluate your knowledge, understanding and skills. Assessments for this programme may include written assignments, time constrained assessments, logbooks/portfolios, practical assessments, seminars and presentations, project-based assessments and examinations. Tutors provide support for assessments in class. There will also be opportunity for formative assessment and feedback during the delivery of each module to monitor learning, and to support and prepare you for the summative assessments which make up the module. Feedback on your summative assessments will be given which will allow you to guide efforts and activities in subsequent modules. Staff aim to return assessed work within a 20 working day timeframe (not including holidays) so that you can most benefit from the feedback.
