- Individual Liberty - the right to act, believe and express views free from unjust control of governments and others.

Student Association

Welcome

Welcome to Bishop Burton College. As the group of students responsible for last year's social and recreational calendar we feel well placed to help you get the most out of your time at Bishop Burton College.

The Student Association supported over 150 events last year including the weekly social events such as quizzes, film nights, discos, trips out to the cinema, and ice skating as well as the bigger events of the year – the Christmas, Valentine's and Summer Balls.

As a sporty College there was also the need to shout loudly from the side lines at matches (home and away!) and participate in after-match celebrations which, with the huge success of our sport teams, were quite frequent!

We meet up with the Principal and other staff regularly, as we act as the formal link between staff and students. It means we can discuss your issues as well as making sure that we know first-hand about planned changes within the College.

We joined the Student Association to gain experience of working within a team, to represent all other Bishop Burton College students and to ensure they had a say in how the College is run. The year has been fantastic! We have all learnt so much about being in an Association and know these skills will remain with us for the rest of our lives and look at our great CVs! We would definitely do it again!

If you have energy, ideas and would like to contribute to student life at Bishop Burton College, then become a part of the Student Association. You can do this by speaking to staff in Student Services. We hope you enjoy your time at Bishop Burton. We all wish you the best of luck and hope to see you working and playing hard.

Best wishes,
Bishop Burton College Student Association

Accommodation

The College provides residential accommodation for Further Education and Higher Education students. Wardens live in close proximity to students and are available to offer support, advice and to deal with any problem which arises.

To contact the Duty Warden, phone 07795 013593. Wardens are available 24/7.

Non-residential students are not permitted in Halls of Residence at any time.

Activities

All social activities are open to all students whether they are residential or not – come and join in! Any non-residential student aged under 18 must make prior arrangements to travel home after these events. Under 18s who are non-residential are not permitted to stay on campus overnight and those aged over 18 must have a residential student willing to take responsibility for them, be signed in with the Duty Warden and pay the necessary fee (£10) in advance of any overnight stays.

Anti-bullying

Any concerns over bullying or harassment must be passed on to your course tutor or support staff who will ensure that they are dealt with in line with the 'Anti-harassment and Anti-bullying Policy'.

Policy Statement

The College is committed to promoting and maintaining acceptable standards of conduct by ensuring that all individuals, students and staff, understand the nature of harassment and bullying, whether physical or verbal. No incidents of bullying and harassment will be tolerated and any incidents will be dealt with in accordance with the College's disciplinary regulations.

Aim

The aim of the Policy is to define the College's position on harassment and bullying and to set out the course of action if any student or member of staff is subjected to bullying or harassment.

Definitions:

Harassment is unacceptable behaviour which can include not only violence and bullying, but also subtler behaviour such as ignoring or excluding an individual. It subjects an individual or group to unwelcome attention, humiliation, ridicule, offence or loss of privacy. It may consist of a single event or a pattern of behaviour. Harassment may leave an individual or group feeling intimidated, upset, humiliated, embarrassed or offended.

Bullying is the intentional tormenting of others through verbal harassment, physical assault, or other subtler methods of coercion such as manipulation.

Bullying often describes a form of harassment perpetrated by an abuser who possesses more physical and/or social power and dominance than the victim. The victim of bullying is sometimes referred to as a target. The harassment can be verbal, physical and/or emotional.

Assessment malpractice or misconduct

Assessment Malpractice consists of those acts which undermine the integrity and validity of assessment, the certification of qualifications and / or damage the authority and reputation of those responsible for conducting the assessment and certification.

The College does not tolerate actions (or attempted actions) of malpractice by students and is deemed a serious misconduct by awarding organisations. All allegations will be taken seriously and investigated by a curriculum manager and findings with recommended outcomes reported to the Director of Quality.

Student malpractice could include the following, although the list is not exhaustive:

- Plagiarism - trying to pass someone else's work off as your own – this includes work copied directly from the Internet or book.
- Collusion -
 - Cheating in an examination by using materials prohibited in the examination room
 - Falsifying the results of laboratory, fieldwork or other forms of data collection
 - Impersonating another during an examination or submission of deadline
 - Using false statements to obtain an examination withdrawal or coursework extension
 - Falsifying a transcript or other official document.
 - Directly copying text from a source material without quoting the source.

Potential outcome from investigations if allegation upheld:

- The appropriate disciplinary procedure will be followed
- Restricted opportunity to submit valid work.
- No opportunity for a retake limiting amount of times work can be attempted in order to achieve criteria.
- Student to be awarded a failed component resulting in a fail of the qualification being studied.

Appeals against assessment decisions:

Where a student appeals against an assessment decision, and this has not been resolved through discussion with the assessor, the student has 7 days in which to write/email to the programme's Internal Quality Assurer (IQA) and contest the assessment decision.

A sample assessment will then be carried out either by the IQA (or where IQA's own assessment is being contested) by another IQA or experienced assessor familiar with the requirements of the programme. They will present the outcome to the student and assessor in writing within 10 days.

If the results of this second assessment are still contested the matter will be referred to the Head of Department, Curriculum Area Manager and the Director of Quality informed.

If appropriate, the External Quality Assurer (EQA) may also be consulted for advice by the IQA or CaLM/CL in accordance with the Awarding Organisation Regulations to come to a decision of resolve.

If you wish to appeal against the findings and action, then this should be made in writing to the Assistant Principal, setting out the grounds for appeal, within 10 days of receipt of the outcome.

The Assistant Principal or representative will review the evidence and respond to the appellant within 10 working days of receiving the appeal.

Health and Safety

A student studying in a land-based College will encounter additional health and safety considerations – tractors, livestock movement and crop spraying not being frequent issues in a city College! It is expected that all students will follow the guidance and regulations explained during induction and be responsible for the maintenance of a safe environment for themselves and others.

In particular students must:

- Familiarise themselves with and follow the codes of practice relevant to the areas in which they work
- Be appropriately dressed for the activity being undertaken
- Fulfil any safety precautions when using equipment and report any defects immediately to a member of staff
- Report any accidents to a member of staff immediately and follow the procedures on reporting of accidents that will then begin
- Not attend any session, be it a duty or formal teaching session, under the influence of any substance which may cause alterations in behaviour. A student showing such behaviour will be removed from the session and subjected to the College's disciplinary procedures.

1) Introduction

(i) Bishop Burton College ("the College") accepts its moral and legal duties under the Health and Safety at Work etc Act 1974 and supporting legislation. The College intends to fully comply with this legislation and is firmly committed to minimising adverse effects to the health, safety and welfare of its employees, students and any other persons affected by its activities.

(ii) Furthermore, the College acknowledges the importance and positive benefits of effective health and safety management and will strive to maintain high standards for health and safety which go beyond the minimum requirements of the law.

2) Policy Statement

The College will: -

(i) Establish systems to identify and assess the risks to health and safety arising from its work activities, equipment and use of materials and substances.

(ii) Put in place control measures and management systems which are sensible and proportionate to those risks.

(iii) Involve employees in the above processes by providing adequate facilities for consultation.

(iv) Develop appropriate systems for effective communication including raising the profile of health and safety matters throughout the organisation.

(v) Provide all employees with the necessary information, instruction, training and supervision to ensure that they are competent to carry out their duties.

(vi) Educate students in health and safety by incorporating the basic principles into all appropriate courses. The ultimate goal is to develop students that are 'risk aware' rather than 'risk averse'.

(vii) Allocate adequate resources to allow the objectives within this Policy to be achieved.

(viii) Regularly monitor and assess health and safety performance with a view to continuous improvement.

3) Departmental Arrangements

(i) Due to the size and diversity of the organisation, each Department is required to devise written arrangements which describe how they intend to comply with the College Health and Safety Policy. Such arrangements are the Departmental Codes of Practice which give detail of how health and safety issues are managed locally.

4) General Responsibilities

(i) The College Corporation, through its Principal and Executive Team, is ultimately responsible for ensuring that this Policy and any accompanying Policies and Procedures are fully implemented across the organisation.

(ii) Nevertheless, health and safety is the responsibility of everyone within the organisation. Consequently, the College expects each and every employee to cooperate on health and safety matters and to take reasonable care for themselves and any other person who may be affected by their actions.

ID Cards and Lanyards

All students are issued with a College photo ID card and student lanyard at the commencement of each academic year. For security and easy identification of students, these must be worn at all times. Students are often asked for their ID when using the Learning Resource Centre and other College facilities. “Maths and English are vital skills that everybody needs to deal with everyday life: at home, in education, in life and at work.”

Maths and English are taught alongside your vocational subjects. Your whole course team will work together to ensure that they cover all of the elements of Functional Skills.

The skills will be embedded throughout your course and your subject tutors will deliver the areas which are most relevant to theory and practical sessions. The underpinning skills will be taught by specialists.

In order that you are well prepared to move on with your chosen career, or into a higher programme of education, it is vital that you continue to develop your skills in maths and English (there are very few jobs these days that do not call upon you to use these skills).

Maths and English are a compulsory part of your course so you will be expected to follow the appropriate level of programme (GCSE or Functional Skills) and attend all sessions. These sessions will help you build on the skills that you have learned previously and teach you how to apply them into a vocational context.

All members of staff are aware of the importance of Maths and English. If you need help you should speak to your course manager. Help will be given by:

- Members of the course team
- Maths and English staff
